AMLS Provider Purpose

The Advanced Medical Life Support Provider course is a two-day, in-depth study of medical emergencies. This course emphasizes a very practical approach and format. The curriculum is designed to allow for an ample amount of actual hands-on physical assessment of patients. The AMLS course, and specially written book, are aimed directly at paramedics and EMS nurses. They include time-tested strategies of education, developed by the National Association of EMTs and the National Association of EMS Physicians.

AMLS Provider Educational Objectives

Upon completion of this program, the participant will be able to:

- apply critical thinking skills to integrate pathophysiology with the assessment findings of a medical patient;
- identify and differentiate between actual and potential patient problems;
- improve their ability to conduct a competent medical examination that utilizes proper diagnostic skills, critical thinking, and interventions;
- improve their ability to utilize problem-solving strategies in interventions and management alternatives;
- review the communication procedures necessary to relay pertinent findings and interventions to the receiving facility.

AMLS Refresher Purpose

The Advanced Medical Life Support provider certification is valid for four years; to renew, participants attend an AMLS Refresher program. The AMLS Refresher course has been designed to provide a review of key AMLS information and testing for the purpose of recertifying providers every four years.

AMLS Refresher Educational Objectives

Upon completion of this program, the participant will be able to:

- discuss through case study, the AMLS assessment, field impression and differential impressions in a patient with complaints of respiratory difficulties, chest pain, shock, altered mental status and abdominal pain;
- successfully complete testing scenarios and a written exam.
